The Top-Line garage door is a timeless and durable aluminium door, with no end of options. The garage door is constructed from a maintenance-free aluminium frame, which you can fill with a variety of panels and/or glazing

Unlimited possibilities

The aluminium frame of the Top-Line garage door can be filled with a wide variety of panels. By combining transparent and blank panels, you can create a completely personal style.

Both the section height and width can be chosen to optimally match your garage, resulting in a harmonious total look. Moreover, the range of colours available for the frame and panels is almost unlimited and can be separately selected. Together, we design a quality door whose appearance, colour and panel division is in total harmony with your home style. We have the knowledge, skills and production facilities to also meet more complex individual wishes.

Top-Line sections can also be used as glazed sections in the High-Line, Wood-Line and Design-Line series. Using such panels enhances not only the appearance of your door but also allows extra daylight to enter the garage.
